Imperial Family: Reign 49

IMPERIAL SOVEREIGN COURT OF THE WILD ROSE

Message from the

PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD

On behalf of the Board of Directors, it is my absolute pleasure to welcome you to ...

Coronation 50 — A Golden Jubilee

I have been honoured to serve my fifth reign as President, and while each year brings new challenges, it also brings even greater rewards as we continue to grow and evolve.

Like any reign, this year was not without its bumps along the road. We navigated some difficult conversations, including a controversial performer compensation program that sparked debate between our long-standing members and a new generation of performers. While it wasn't easy, I truly believe this initiative has set our organization on a path for another 50 years of success—bringing fresh, passionate faces into our community while honouring the traditions that built us.

To Tanner, Georgiie, Wanda, ABoy, and LaDonna—thank you. Some of you stepped into new roles, others brought seasoned experience, but all of you worked tirelessly as a team. You not only served with grace and determination, but you made your community proud—and you had fun along the way.

To our membership: thank you for your unwavering support, encouragement, and love. Striking a balance between progress and tradition is never easy, but our ISCWR family continues to show the world how it can be done. After travelling the circuit and seeing so many organizations, I am reminded just how far we've come—and how bright our future remains. Together, we honour the legacy of Empress I, Millicent, and carry it forward for generations to come.

I remain, in service

Message from the

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE OF MONARCHS

Good evening, friends and chosen family, It is with great pleasure and excitement that I welcome you all to Edmonton and Coronation50~ A Golden Jubilee! The Imperial Sovereign Court of the Wild Rose and the 49th Imperial House of Unity and Community have had a fabulous year doing noble deeds and fundraising for Edmonton's LGBTQI2S+ Community.

The focus of this reign and year have been community outreach, fostering new connections, attracting new members/performers and raising funds for the Edmonton Pride Seniors Group. It has been a innovative and successful year and I am pleased to say it has allowed us to also award 18 bursaries to LGBTQI2S+ by means of the John M Kerr Memorial Bursary.

Tonight, we crown our 50th Monarchs under Empress 1 Millicent! We honor our founding members, our history within the community, countless monarchs, title holders and volunteers who have all contributed to the legacy of our organization, as well as the countless charities and community members whose lives have been elevated by our efforts over 50 years. Surviving as long as we have is no small feat, especially in today's world. Every generation has faced the struggles of their time and the lessons learned and passed down over the decades have resulted in the strong thriving FAMILY we see today!

On behalf of the ISCWR College of Monarchs I wish to thank you for all the love and support this year and for joining us to celebrate the achievements of Reign 49. Have an amazing weekend and we shall see you all in our travels as we celebrate 50 Years of Noble Deeds!

Message from THE EMPEROR

Hello, and welcome to Coronation 50: A Golden Jubilee!

I want to begin by thanking each and everyone of you for being here to celebrate the incredible work and dedication of the 49th reign. Your support throughout our year of charitable efforts has meant the world to us. Without you, we wouldn't be standing here today with the pride we feel in what we've accomplished together.

Reign 49 has been an incredible learning experience for me. We started off in an unorthodox way, with a candidate dropping out just before the election, leaving me as the sole candidate for monarch. When that happened, my stubbornness kicked in. I told the College of Monarchs that I wanted to go it alone — without the assistance of a regent. I had fully convinced myself that I had the strength and skills to serve as a solo monarch. I believed I had a strong team behind me, and a board that would step in when needed to help me succeed. Having already served once before, I thought I had developed all the tools necessary to be the leader this organization needed — and I held firmly to that belief.

But as we all know, no reign ever goes exactly according to the plan written on paper. I quickly learned that mentorship would need to be at the heart of my leadership. I had team members who were keen to help, but who had never planned a drag event before. One had more lived experience than I could ever imagine, but needed guidance when it came to court protocol. Another joined much later than the rest and had to learn, on the fly, how this organization operates.

My perfect plan for an easy year was quickly derailed by my own bullheadedness. Right out of the gate, I took on the task of organizing multiple events at once. I told myself it was the only way to ensure everything went smoothly — because if you want something done right, you do it yourself ... right? At least, that's what I convinced myself.

At the same time, I was finishing the most challenging intake of my education, all while trying to maintain my personal life outside of school and court. Somehow, I pushed through. I made it to the new year with successful events, strong grades, and even earned my Red Seals of Excellence. Wonderful! The hard part is over, right?

Just keep ignoring that mental health monster creeping up behind you ...

The new year quickly brought a new set of challenges. As I began delegating events to other members of my team, it didn't lighten the load — It simply made room for new hurdles. We made a marketing misstep, but it turned into a valuable opportunity for growth and open communication.

That moment allowed us to sit down with members of the community and hear where we were falling short. Out of those conversations, Tosheena and I put forward a proposal that I'm incredibly proud of — one that we believed could truly make a difference for those in the community who hadn't been able to access our organization.

But that excitement quickly turned to tension when the proposal was met with mixed emotions. I carried so much stress and anxiety that, by the time it passed, I felt physically sore from holding it all in. It took a real toll on my mental health. I felt drained and deeply hurt by some of the reactions.

Still, as we do, we put those feelings aside and keep doing the work — because that's what we committed to when we took on these roles.

I ignored how much I was struggling with stress until it crept dangerously close to the event I was most excited about this year—our annual Leather, Feather, and Fur kink and fetish drag show. I had such big plans for it and placed incredibly high expectations on myself. What didn't register — at least not soon enough — was that I was personally organizing four events in the same month. I had stretched myself far too thin.

By the day of the event, reality hit hard. When several of those grand expectations fell through, I broke down in a full panic attack — at my day job. I had to hide it, because no one there knows about my personal life or this other world I'm part of.

I pulled myself together, made it to the event, and we had a great turnout and raised money for our cause. But even in that success, I felt a deep sense of disappointment in myself. I couldn't shake the feeling that I had let myself down.

The next day, Tosheena sat me down and, in the most loving way possible, told me I needed to buck up and ask for help. So, I did. I named an in-town half, started delegating tasks, and began taking some of the weight off my shoulders. But by then, the damage was already done. Burnout had fully set in, and it made even the simplest tasks feel overwhelming. I found myself growing impatient — quick to anger over the smallest things. Worse, I started to feel indifferent toward things I had once been deeply passionate about.

Things really started to fall apart for me personally in May. On top of the burnout I was feeling from court, a lot was happening in my personal life — things I didn't feel I could share with anyone. So, I turned to lying. When people asked if I was okay, I'd say I was just tired, stressed, or fine. But inside, I have never felt more alone.

My mental health convinces me of things that aren't true, but feel so real. I started to believe that people only talk to me because I am the monarch — that they only care about what I can do for them, not about me as a person. I feel like I'm not a priority to anyone. I fear that once I stepdown, the messages and check - ins will stop — because without a title, why would anyone reach out? While I am excited to rest, I live in an immense fear of the silence that is going to come with stepping down from this role.

Even tonight, sitting in a room full of chosen family and friends here to celebrate our hard work, my demons are still whispering in my ear. They tell me, 'They're not here for you. They're here out of obligation. They're here for the candidates. They're here for the anniversary monarchs. No one truly cares about the work you've done — or the person you are.'"

I'm not sharing this to seek sympathy or to say 'woe is me. 'I'm sharing it to shed light on the reality of being a monarch in our court system. No matter how strong you believe you are, your weaknesses will find a way to surface — often in unexpected ways. You can't predict what's going to happen in court or in life, and those surprises can quickly derail your path. Serving as a solo monarch only amplifies that pressure, because there's no one beside you to help carry the weight.

If you asked me today whether I'd do it solo again, my answer would be a resounding no.

I hope sharing this helps you understand the pressure placed on your local monarchs. I hope it shows how much of a difference small gestures can make — whether it's reaching out just to talk about something other than court, or offering to take something off their plate. These simple acts of support can mean the world. And most of all, I hope it helps you recognize the tools and mindset you'll need if you ever choose to step into this role yourself.

Alright. No more reflecting. Let's get some thank yous before I run out of space.

Court of Regina – Kim and Quinten Thank you for hosting such a fabulous ball! I loved the personal touches you added — it was truly special. I couldn't have chosen a better coronation for my first-ever out-of-town coronation as a reigning monarch. (crazy thought, eh?).

Court of San Francisco - San Fran! What an incredible experience at my very first American coronation. The night was filled with high glam and stunning drag artistry! I will always cherish the memory of my first pilgrimage and the honor of carrying the wreath to Mama José's grave. Thank you, Empress Afrika America, for being a command performer tonight.

Court of Calgary - Thank you, Dennis Storm, for trusting me to host your out-of-town show and for allowing me to sit on your dais. This was the first out-of-town coronation for several members of my team, and we had a fantastic time! Also, thanks for letting Godiva, Vanity, and me do our silly little Christmas number.

Court of Winnipeg - By the time this is published, I'll have technically visited you twice this year! Thank you for your incredible hospitality and for days filled with fun and friendship. I'm just going to assume I had a great time at my last out-of-town coronation. :) Thank you, Cake and Jamie, for the hours of catching up and that late - night Winnipeg tour. And Jamie — thank you again for being a command performer tonight!

Switch and Bitch - Honestly, these nights were some of the best of the reign that weren't fundraisers. Chilling out, gaming, and talking about literally anything we wanted were some of the most healing moments I could have asked for.

Karmella Barr - OLE PALOMA! #shotswiththecandidate Thank you for being a shining light! But ... I'm still Team Sassy. ;)

Zachary David Foxx - We didn't really start connecting until late in my reign, but thank you for the almost - daily conversations and for checking in whenever you sensed something was off. I can't wait to celebrate your reign with you in March!

Elixir - Thank you for all your behind-the-scenes support this year. You stepped up time and time again, even when you didn't have to, and I'll always be grateful.

Tilda WorldEnds - Thank you for letting me bully you all year (kidding... mostly). In all seriousness, thank you for talking things through with me, letting me vent when I needed to, and being such a solid emotional support dowager.

Gabe Itch - Thank you for being a true brother. Stepping up and continuing an event without hesitation when I told you I didn't have the capacity meant the world to me. You're one of the few people this year who I felt truly saw me.

The Board of Directors - Thank you to each of you whostepped up this year. Electing an entirely new board isn't ideal, but you all handled it with grace and filled the gaps where needed. Thank you to the outgoing board for your service, and best of luck to those continuing on.

Colin Bae - Thanks for being a brother and stepping in when I needed a hand. I know your own transition journey was your priority, and I appreciate the help you still gave.

Cake - Thank you for the emotional support from afar. I cherish our hours - long chats and every moment we get to share on the circuit.

Ladonna Cree - Kohkum, thank you for returning to the upper house after all these years. I'll always appreciate having someone I consider an Elder by my side. Best of luck with your future endeavors—I know bright things are ahead for you.

Aboyactually - For someone who stepped in with so little information beforehand, you went above and beyond. Thank you for being a shining light in the reign and sharing wisdom well beyond your years.

Wanda Lust - Thank you for the humor, friendship, and positivity you brought to this reign. Best of luck in your future endeavors — I see nothing but success and happiness ahead for you.

Georgiie Street - Thank you for stepping up when I needed it most. I know I threw you into a bigger role than you expected, but you held your own beautifully. Good luck — you're destined for something truly special.

Tosheena - This year has been one of the hardest for us—both in court and in life. Words will never be enough to thank you for all you've done for me, the organization, and our community. On a personal note: thank you for standing by my side, even when things got rough. Thank you for listening, for bearing with me, for understanding, for trusting, for loving me — even when I didn't deserve it. I love you, and while I'm scared, I'm also excited to see where we go from here. I love you, my community-minded, otter-obsessed, horká brambora.

And finally, one last, huge THANK YOU to everyone who bought tickets, donated items, purchased 50/50, bid in silent auctions, performed, promoted our events, or even just spoke kindly about the court. We could not have accomplished all this good work without each and every one of you.

Message from the IMPERIAL CROWN PRINCE

Good evening, Everyone,

I would like to start off by thanking you all for coming tonight to celebrate our year and the ISCWR's 50th anniversary as an organization.

Reign 49 was an experience. I am quite new to the court and had little experience, also didn't know what to expect with holding a title in the upper house. I wasn't expecting to be Prince, but I will say I'm so happy and honored to be. The people I have met and formed connections with are out of this world! The chosen family that has come out of this is something I will never take for granted. The history and what this organization does not just every year, but day in and day out, is so important!

To the board that helped us pull off such a successful year, thank you all for your time and efforts. From working the door, handling the money, being a backstage hand when needed and just showing up and being present in the audience. We couldn't have done it without you.

To Ducette and Dutchess 49, Aboyactually and Ladonna Cree, you both contributed so much to this year. We had A LOT of wholesome moments, from laughter to genuine conversations and sometimes just an ear to listen.

To my imperial wife, Princess 49, Wanda Lust, WOW! I wouldn't and couldn't think of anyone else I would have rather done this with. There was never a moment that you didn't cease to impress me but also make me laugh. No matter what happens tonight I can't wait to see what the future holds for us and our friendship .

To my actual wife, just simply thank you! For everything literally. I know this year was hard for many different reasons, but through it all you stuck by myside. You are my everything and I can keep doing anything if I know you are the one by my side. You doing what you do allowed me to be a part of an amazing group of people, that helped raise so much money for charity this year.

Last but certainly not least, the man that brought us all together, Emperor 49, Tanner Steele! People mistake us for one another all the time, but I don't see how.

You, Sir, are incredible. You not only organized a team that raised a lot of money for charity, but you lead them alone. You taught me so much not only about the organization and the traditions, but about myself as well. I am very proud to have had you as my mentor.

Thank you all for everything this year!

Forever Prince 49,

Georgiie Street

Message from the IMPERIAL CROWN PRINCESS

As this incredible year draws to a close, I find myself deeply moved and grateful for everything we've accomplished together in our charity efforts. What began with a simple desire to make a difference has grown into something far greater than I could have imagined—a movement powered by generosity, unity, and relentless compassion.

This year, we raised more than just funds. We built community. We created moments of hope for people who needed them most. And we proved that when passionate people come together, real change happens.

None of this would have been possible without the incredible individuals who stood together through it all. I want to express my heartfelt thanks not only to our upper house but also to our board, and our community.

Tanner Steele – Your leadership and steady presence have been the building blocks to where we are today. Your ability to mentor, joke around, educate, and help out when needed has made Reign 49 an incredible experience. I appreciate everything you have done for me.

Georgiie Street – Your energy, creativity, and heart have brought life to every event you've attended. You turned ideas into action and kept the spirit of giving vibrant and joyful. You've not only been the most amazing counter-part a gal could ask for but also the most amazing friend. I will cherish every moment we've had this reign for the rest of my life. Chat tomorrow to see how many tries it takes us to get the wordle of the day hehe.

Aboyactually – Thank you for lending your voice and platform in such a meaningful way. Your authenticity inspired others to care and give in ways they hadn't before. You are not only one to advocate for change in our community but you are also one to lead the way while doing so. And I hope you were finally able to reach that crown ;).

Ladonna Cree – Kohkom, this year we have spent some one-on-one time. I have gotten to know more about your life and the years you have dedicated to drag. I am truly grateful that we were able to work together and build a friendship. I look forward to many more years working alongside you, in and out of drag.

To everyone who donated, volunteered, supported, and shared our mission — thank you. This year has been one of transformation, and I'm excited for the future we'll continue to build together.

With immense gratitude,

HISH, Imperial Crown Princess 49

Message from the DUKE, DUCHESS, DUCET

This year has been extraordinary sure there were ups and ground breaking downs, but This year I learned just how much my community cares about me. I'm so grateful for this community and for my fellow upper house members. They have shown me so much love and support this past year I would not be where I am without them.

I'm honoured to be imperial sovereign Ducet of reign 49 and to bring disabled representation to this incredible organization. This year I got to feel important. I got to feel purposeful. This organization gave a disabled performer a chance to teach so much about accessibility and understanding. I'm so grateful to those who listened and learned.

Congrats to us on a very successful reign 49

,with love of ABOYACTUALLY

Good evening honored guests,

I know some folks will be looking for their names in this write-up—and truthfully, there are so many of you to thank. Please know that your support is absolutely noticed.

To our incredible sponsors, agencies, and local businesses: thank you for your collaboration in raising both funds and awareness throughout the year. To all the performers, stage crew, and behind-the-scenes stars who shared their talents. Your energy and effort made every event truly memorable.

A heartfelt thank-you to our community partners who stood with us along the way. On a personal note, I want to recognize my husband—my greatest supporter. His love and encouragement have meant the world to me throughout this journey.

To the Upper House and the Board: what a joy it's been to work alongside such a close-knit, dedicated group. Your collaboration and care made this year so special.

And finally, to every community member who came to our events, cheered us on, bought a ticket, shared a post, or simply showed up, made this year a success. Your support has been incredible, and I am so grateful.

With gratitude,

Love Kuhkom,

Anniversary DECADE

Has it really been a decade? Already?

First, I'd like to offer a heart-felt congratulations to the entire 49th Imperial House of Unity and Community. Simply by making it to the finish line, you've proven that you can work together and make great things happen. I'm proud of you.

If the past year has shown me anything, is that the only constant we really have is how much things refuse to stay consistent. Don't be fooled: this is a feature, and not a bug. When I stepped down as Emperor, I couldn't fathom what my life would be like after so much time in the Court's spotlight, and beyond nervous of what could possibly come next. Now here I sit a decade later, and wondering what I was I could have ever been nervous about.

I look back on my time with the court with nothing but love and gratitude, and I can't wait to see what the future brings for me, for the organization, and for us as part of the greater community.

Much love to you all, I am and remain,

Emperor 39 of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta,
International Mr. Leather 2025,

Jacque Strappe

Good evening Monarchs, Colleges Members, invited guests, family and friends.

A decade, WOW 10 years has come and gone so fast! And here we are about to celebrate our 50 years of fundraising, friendships and fabulousness. I'm so blessed for those who had the image of starting our Chapter of ICS and paved the way. The ISCWR has and always will be a major supporter of GLBTQ2S community.

Reminiscing brings great joy to my heart with all the different ways of fundraising that we did; drag shows, bake sales, 50/50 raffles, even painting over graffiti, the reigns now have come up fabulous new ways like Sunday Brunches, involvement in the Gay Baseball Game etc. I continue and forever will cherish the friendships that I have made over the many years of being involved with the ISCWR, the "Sisterhood" that has formed will never be replaced.

Message From THE HALFS'

Dearest Tanner,

How are you? I'm doing well. I know you didn't ask, but I figured you should know.

This past year as your half Empress has been such a joy. Having the opportunity to represent the Wild Rose, a court that has been an innovator and example for many across the prairies, is an honour.

I am so proud of what you have accomplished this year: Welcoming people into the Court, lessening financial barriers for your volunteers, and remaining steadfast in building relationships in your realm.

You set out to have a "typical" reign, but I think everyone can agree that you and your year have been anything but the sort. Actions speak louder than words and your impact will be ringing in our ears for many moons.

I am so proud of you, I can almost forgive you for naming an additional Half ... Almost. Hi, Collin.

I think this is probably close to half a page, and as I write this from the dilapidated hideaway I slither off to post Winnipeg Ball, I will simply say:

I adore you, I'm proud of you, I would like a fireball, and thank you.

I hope this email blows your tits clean off,

Empress XLIV ½ of Edmonton,
Cake

Tanner, when you set out to do an entire reign by yourself, I thought you were crazy. Eventually you realized I was right and asked me to help as your in town half. Although I joined your team halfway through, I am one of the many who witnessed all the hard work you and your upper house put into serving our community. You and your team should be very proud of your year and everything you were able to accomplish.

Thank you for allowing me to be apart of your journey, and for always playing a major role in mine.

To you, I raise a bottle of Fireball ... I promise this year I'll actually share some with you

I remain

Message From The Gays

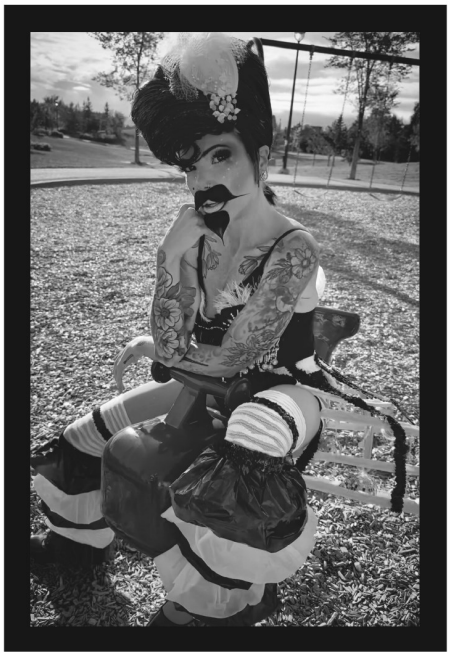
Mr. Mz. Ms. Mx

What an incredible year! It has been such an honour to be Mx. Gay 36 and this year has been such a highlight in my drag career. I couldn't have done it with the help of Mz. Gay 36 Vira VonVelvet. You bring so much to the stage and I will remember your incredible dino mask for years to come! Thank you to all the ISCWR members for your support and dedication this year.

Congratulations to the entirety of the upper house, you were an incredible team and the commitment and hard work you put towards every event this year did not go unnoticed. Thank you many times over! To our Emperor, Tanner Steele, you are simply outstanding. The care, dedication, and love that you have for this community is unmatched. You are such an inspiration. Congratulations on such a successful reign.

Many thanks and congratulations from Montreal, I miss you all <3

-Passerine



Holding the title of Mz Gay Edmonton this past year has been a remarkable journey filled with growth, inspiration, and meaningful relationships. It gave me the chance to celebrate and stand alongside some of the most inspiring queer voices in the city. Every event and gathering reminded me just how vibrant and resilient our community truly is.

The ISCWR is a family of passionate people dedicated to keeping queer culture alive and thriving in Edmonton. Their commitment to advocacy, community care, and celebration creates a space where everyone can feel seen and supported. I'm proud to have walked this path with them and grateful for everything this experience has given me.

Thank you for letting me be part of this incredible story. It's shaped me in ways I'll carry forward with pride and so much queer joy!!!

With glitter and gratitude,

Vira Von Velvet
